

PlumpJack 1995

Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon

“...is an awesome wine that tastes like a synthesis in style of some of the richest, most powerful Cabernets from the Oakville district. It may come closest in style to resembling the profound Cabernets of Harlan Estate. This spectacular Cabernet Sauvignon is a worthy candidate for 20 – 30 years of cellaring. The opaque black/purple color is followed by intense aromatics offering, smoke coffee, roasted meats, and copious quantities of blackberry and cassis fruit. Extremely dense, full bodied, and crammed with noteworthy wines of the 1995 vintage. It will be a long distance runner, although I am not sure how many readers will be able to ignore its lavish display of decadent levels of ripe fruit and toasty oak.”

Robert M. Parker Jr., The Wine Advocate, 95+ points.

“Is unbelievably twice the wine of the regular; enormous, extracted and intense with a bright core of blueberry, showing through green olive and cassis elements.”
Steve Pitcher, The Wine News, “Oakville Distinctive Cabernets,” June/ July 1998
